How to access Common Thread on Facebook

Visit facebook.com and in the lefthand column you'll find “Groups.”

You can also access the group directly by going to https://www.facebook.com/groups/seaknonprofits/

Bookmark it in your browser for easy access.

You may find the group listed under “pending invites” on your groups page. When you accept membership, you'll be prompted to answer a few quick questions.

The questions are so we can be sure all group members are actually humans involved with non-profits in Southeast Alaska.

Make the group easier to find by selecting “Pin to Shortcuts” — the group will show up as a favorite on the Groups page and in your left-hand sidebar on Facebook under Shortcuts.
The group was created using the UWSEAK page, but this group is not limited to members of United Way. All non-profit groups are welcome.

You can invite colleagues here. Even with an invitation, new members still must answer the questions to join.

As a member, you can post topics for discussion or questions. We encourage you to search to see if a topic has already been discussed before posting, but any posts that meet our guidelines are welcome!

You can learn about the group and read the guidelines — definitely read the guidelines — under "About" in the sidebar. The other tab that will be important is "Discussion" which is where the action happens!

You can invite colleagues here.

You can invite colleagues here.

You can invite colleagues here.

As a member, you can post topics for discussion or questions. We encourage you to search to see if a topic has already been discussed before posting, but any posts that meet our guidelines are welcome!

You can learn about the group and read the guidelines — definitely read the guidelines — under "About" in the sidebar. The other tab that will be important is "Discussion" which is where the action happens!

You can invite colleagues here. Even with an invitation, new members still must answer the questions to join.

Check out posts here. Some may be pinned at the top from time to time if they have information you should see, otherwise it will be chronological order.

You're encouraged to comment and participate in discussions on threads that interest you or that relate to your work.